

GREAT FLOODS IN THE EAST.

THE DAMAGE REACHES MILLIONS IN THE NEW ENGLAND STATES.

Nowhere in the streets of Norwich—Houses, bridges, dams, and railroad tracks washed away. A way to the cause—The Floods Have Experienced Their Worst.

NORWICH, Feb. 15.—The flood that has swept through the Shetucket and Quinnaug River valleys since Friday morning is the most destructive in the history of the State. The entire eastern end of the State has been inundated, and reports come in constantly of damaged farms, broken reservoirs, demolished bridges, and submerged farmhouses. One farmer near this city was under ten feet of water for nearly twenty-four hours, and at 2 o'clock yesterday morning, and in the lower business streets all communication between stores, hotels, schools, boarding and private houses was carried on by means of boats, at the charge of 10 cents a passenger. At Jewett City, twelve miles north of the Ashland Company dam, two of the State mill dams, the Slater Ore house, and machine shop, and two iron railroad bridges were swept away. The damage there is $200,000. The big, new $100,000 Greenville dam, two miles above this city, went to pieces yesterday noon. A score of mills will be stopped until it is rebuilt, and thousands of working people are out of employment. The Norwich and Worcester Railroad, which runs through the flooded valleys, is damaged in this town $300,000. Merchants lost not less than $100,000. Thousands of bushels of corn were destroyed at the railroad depots in this city. Five locomotives were caught in the flood at the depot here. A large part of the big paper mill at Greenville was torn away.

The frost is the greatest blow the great manufacturing district of New England has yet received. In this part of the State the frost will exceed $100,000.

ROCKFORD, Feb. 15.—The floods are gradually subsiding. The water has receded from the streets, and the water has been raised to a level of 10 feet above the normal level. The damage done in this city is $100,000. The water has been raised to a level of 10 feet above the normal level. The damage done in this city is $100,000.

At Taunton Mill River was a nothing but a flood. The water was so high that it was impossible to get across. The water was so high that it was impossible to get across. The water was so high that it was impossible to get across.

At Franklin this morning the dam at the Erie factory fell with a crash. The country around the flooded river was a scene of destruction. The water was so high that it was impossible to get across. The water was so high that it was impossible to get across.

At Albany, Feb. 15.—The water in the Hudson River has fallen five inches since midnight. The water is still rising, and the water is still rising. The water is still rising, and the water is still rising.

At New York, Feb. 15.—The water in the Hudson River has fallen five inches since midnight. The water is still rising, and the water is still rising. The water is still rising, and the water is still rising.

At New York, Feb. 15.—The water in the Hudson River has fallen five inches since midnight. The water is still rising, and the water is still rising. The water is still rising, and the water is still rising.

PERJURY IN A DIVORCE SUIT.

SENSATIONAL SCENE IN A PROTESTANT COURT ROOM.

Lawyer Wood's Failure to Prove his Wife's Infidelity—His Own Witness Retracts and his "Spies" are Arrested for Perjury.

PROVIDENCE, Feb. 15.—The climax in the famous Wood divorce suit was reached this morning in the Supreme Court, and was abruptly ended immediately after the production of a piece of highly sensational testimony, the Court curiously dismissing the petition, which was followed by the instant arrest of the principal witness for perjury. The petitioner for the divorce was Herbert B. Wood, Esq., a leading lawyer and politician in this city, and Chairman of the Democratic Committee. The grounds were the oldest known for which absolute divorces are granted, and in support of his allegations Wood produced one James A. Lee of Boston, who swore that he had been present at a house of known ill-repute, and saw her pass in and out in the company of a man not her husband.

At the opening of the case before Judge Wood, two weeks ago, Maria Douglas, who had been housekeeper at the house of the unhappy reputation, was called to testify to the presence of Mrs. Wood and the unknown man referred to. The conduct of the witnesses on the stand was so peculiar that Mr. George J. West, counsel for the respondent, subjected her to a searchlight cross-examination that brought out some of the most sensational and sensational scenes in a sensation was decidedly brewing. The witness had to be released to save her from fainting. She was permitted to go, with the understanding that Mr. West was to continue the cross-examination later. The trial was then continued for two weeks, and on Saturday last continued for two weeks, and on Saturday last continued for two weeks.

Mr. West's first move to-day was to call the witness, and under the fire of cross-examination she broke down, and she was released to save her from fainting. She was permitted to go, with the understanding that Mr. West was to continue the cross-examination later.

Mr. West then moved to report adversely on Mr. Wood's evidence, and he was expected to report adversely on Mr. Wood's evidence, and he was expected to report adversely on Mr. Wood's evidence.

MR. EDMUNDS'S THUNDERBOLT.

The Long-pending Attack on the President.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—Senator Edmunds did not present his report on the relations between the President and the Executive branch of the Government to-day, as was expected. He was absent from the Senate Chamber during the entire day, and a messenger was stationed at the door of his committee room to warn people away. Senator William of Iowa was supposed to be with Mr. Edmunds, lending assistance in forging the thunderbolt.

The report is promised for to-morrow, and will be a very long one. It is expected that the report will be a very long one. It is expected that the report will be a very long one.

THE WAR ON THE CHINESE.

Action that May Lead to Claims on the Government.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—The Chinese Minister called at the State Department to-day, and before Secretary Bayard sundry long telegrams received by him from California to the effect that there is a concerted movement in progress to drive out the Chinese from all the towns and cities of California except San Francisco, and that the Governor of the State and the Sheriff of the various counties evince no intention of interfering with the movement.

At New York, Feb. 15.—The water in the Hudson River has fallen five inches since midnight. The water is still rising, and the water is still rising. The water is still rising, and the water is still rising.

At New York, Feb. 15.—The water in the Hudson River has fallen five inches since midnight. The water is still rising, and the water is still rising. The water is still rising, and the water is still rising.

At New York, Feb. 15.—The water in the Hudson River has fallen five inches since midnight. The water is still rising, and the water is still rising. The water is still rising, and the water is still rising.

MANY WITNESSES ABSENT.

BILLY MOONEY AND FIVE OF HIS ALIBI WITNESSES WANTED.

Mr. Howard Says the Suburban Servers Can't Find a Trace of Them—Till by Col. Bliss and Mr. Palmer—Hill of the Board of Aldermen.

When the Senate committee assembled yesterday to continue its labor of laying bare the true inwardness of the granting of the Broadway railroad franchise, Mr. Roscoe Conkling, the senior counsel, was not there. He had gone to Utica that he might be present at the funeral of Horatio Seymour, his brother-in-law. The Senators forming the committee were anxious to look after things in Albany, after spending about an hour investigating, they adjourned.

None of those reported among the missing have been subpoenaed, and whether or not any of the suburban servers could find them, if they had, they would not have been able to testify. The committee was disappointed, and they were disappointed.

MR. GROSS DRINK MERRY.

She Told Her Story About her Brother and Sister—The Case of the Great Estate.

Miss Harriet Gross, the daughter of an old warrior of the French Revolution, died on Nov. 15, 1885, leaving a fortune of $75,000, and $20,000 of which she gave to four male servants. To Dr. John Hall and other friends large sums were given. No mention was made in the will of John L. Gross, Mrs. Louisa Van Wert, and Mrs. Rachel March. Miss Gross's brother and sister, these relatives are now trying to break the will, which was made by her.

THE SUFFERING ANGELO-EMPLOYED ENGLISHMEN—Mass Meetings.

LONDON, Feb. 15.—Mr. Hugh Childers's delay has given the Socialists another opportunity. They have called a mass meeting in the Strand, and the meeting was held in the Strand.

THE PRESIDENT'S REPLY TO DAVES.

He Declines to Submit Papers Relating to the Suspension of an Official.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—The letter of the Secretary of the Interior, in reply to Mr. Dawes's resolution, which called for "copies of all papers which have been filed in the Interior Department, and which have been filed in the Interior Department, and which have been filed in the Interior Department."

MR. WATERSTON'S SERIOUS ILLNESS.

Louisville, Feb. 15.—To-night the physicians pronounced Mr. Waterston's symptoms favorable. Harvey Waterston and O. O. Stealy arrived from Washington and he recognized them. He is still in bed, and he is still in bed.

AT NEW YORK, FEB. 15.—The water in the Hudson River has fallen five inches since midnight. The water is still rising, and the water is still rising. The water is still rising, and the water is still rising.

AT NEW YORK, FEB. 15.—The water in the Hudson River has fallen five inches since midnight. The water is still rising, and the water is still rising. The water is still rising, and the water is still rising.

AT NEW YORK, FEB. 15.—The water in the Hudson River has fallen five inches since midnight. The water is still rising, and the water is still rising. The water is still rising, and the water is still rising.

AT NEW YORK, FEB. 15.—The water in the Hudson River has fallen five inches since midnight. The water is still rising, and the water is still rising. The water is still rising, and the water is still rising.

AT NEW YORK, FEB. 15.—The water in the Hudson River has fallen five inches since midnight. The water is still rising, and the water is still rising. The water is still rising, and the water is still rising.

AT NEW YORK, FEB. 15.—The water in the Hudson River has fallen five inches since midnight. The water is still rising, and the water is still rising. The water is still rising, and the water is still rising.

THE LEGISLATURE ADJOURNS UNTIL THE DAY AFTER HIS FUNERAL.

ALBANY, Feb. 15.—The Assembly met this evening with Mr. Baker in the chair and received the message from Gov. Hill announcing the death of Horatio Seymour.

During the long career he has always discharged the duties of his high position with honor and devotion to the public good. As Chief Executive of the State, he was the most popular and successful of our Governors. He was the most popular and successful of our Governors.

MR. GROSS DRINK MERRY.

She Told Her Story About her Brother and Sister—The Case of the Great Estate.

Miss Harriet Gross, the daughter of an old warrior of the French Revolution, died on Nov. 15, 1885, leaving a fortune of $75,000, and $20,000 of which she gave to four male servants. To Dr. John Hall and other friends large sums were given. No mention was made in the will of John L. Gross, Mrs. Louisa Van Wert, and Mrs. Rachel March.

THE SUFFERING ANGELO-EMPLOYED ENGLISHMEN—Mass Meetings.

LONDON, Feb. 15.—Mr. Hugh Childers's delay has given the Socialists another opportunity. They have called a mass meeting in the Strand, and the meeting was held in the Strand.

THE PRESIDENT'S REPLY TO DAVES.

He Declines to Submit Papers Relating to the Suspension of an Official.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—The letter of the Secretary of the Interior, in reply to Mr. Dawes's resolution, which called for "copies of all papers which have been filed in the Interior Department, and which have been filed in the Interior Department, and which have been filed in the Interior Department."

MR. WATERSTON'S SERIOUS ILLNESS.

Louisville, Feb. 15.—To-night the physicians pronounced Mr. Waterston's symptoms favorable. Harvey Waterston and O. O. Stealy arrived from Washington and he recognized them. He is still in bed, and he is still in bed.

AT NEW YORK, FEB. 15.—The water in the Hudson River has fallen five inches since midnight. The water is still rising, and the water is still rising. The water is still rising, and the water is still rising.

AT NEW YORK, FEB. 15.—The water in the Hudson River has fallen five inches since midnight. The water is still rising, and the water is still rising. The water is still rising, and the water is still rising.

AT NEW YORK, FEB. 15.—The water in the Hudson River has fallen five inches since midnight. The water is still rising, and the water is still rising. The water is still rising, and the water is still rising.

AT NEW YORK, FEB. 15.—The water in the Hudson River has fallen five inches since midnight. The water is still rising, and the water is still rising. The water is still rising, and the water is still rising.

AT NEW YORK, FEB. 15.—The water in the Hudson River has fallen five inches since midnight. The water is still rising, and the water is still rising. The water is still rising, and the water is still rising.

AT NEW YORK, FEB. 15.—The water in the Hudson River has fallen five inches since midnight. The water is still rising, and the water is still rising. The water is still rising, and the water is still rising.

AT NEW YORK, FEB. 15.—The water in the Hudson River has fallen five inches since midnight. The water is still rising, and the water is still rising. The water is still rising, and the water is still rising.

MISS ROBINSON'S STRUGGLE.

AN EFFORT TO HAVE THE QUESTION OF THE FATHER'S SUICIDE TAKEN FROM THE JURY FROM THE TRIAL—THE TESTIMONY OF THE DREAMER.

At the trial of the Rev. E. F. White in White Plains yesterday for criminal assault on Miss Elfrida Robinson, the defense was the Court to instruct the jury to render a verdict for the accused on the ground that the prosecution had rested without having proved that the minister had used force. The crime, it was urged, had been committed in broad daylight, in a room opening on the street, with the windows open, with people passing, with Mrs. White in a room, and with the door open, and with the door open, and with the door open.

THE PRESIDENT'S REPLY TO DAVES.

He Declines to Submit Papers Relating to the Suspension of an Official.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—The letter of the Secretary of the Interior, in reply to Mr. Dawes's resolution, which called for "copies of all papers which have been filed in the Interior Department, and which have been filed in the Interior Department, and which have been filed in the Interior Department."

MR. WATERSTON'S SERIOUS ILLNESS.

Louisville, Feb. 15.—To-night the physicians pronounced Mr. Waterston's symptoms favorable. Harvey Waterston and O. O. Stealy arrived from Washington and he recognized them. He is still in bed, and he is still in bed.

AT NEW YORK, FEB. 15.—The water in the Hudson River has fallen five inches since midnight. The water is still rising, and the water is still rising. The water is still rising, and the water is still rising.

AT NEW YORK, FEB. 15.—The water in the Hudson River has fallen five inches since midnight. The water is still rising, and the water is still rising. The water is still rising, and the water is still rising.

AT NEW YORK, FEB. 15.—The water in the Hudson River has fallen five inches since midnight. The water is still rising, and the water is still rising. The water is still rising, and the water is still rising.

AT NEW YORK, FEB. 15.—The water in the Hudson River has fallen five inches since midnight. The water is still rising, and the water is still rising. The water is still rising, and the water is still rising.

AT NEW YORK, FEB. 15.—The water in the Hudson River has fallen five inches since midnight. The water is still rising, and the water is still rising. The water is still rising, and the water is still rising.

AT NEW YORK, FEB. 15.—The water in the Hudson River has fallen five inches since midnight. The water is still rising, and the water is still rising. The water is still rising, and the water is still rising.

AT NEW YORK, FEB. 15.—The water in the Hudson River has fallen five inches since midnight. The water is still rising, and the water is still rising. The water is still rising, and the water is still rising.

AT NEW YORK, FEB. 15.—The water in the Hudson River has fallen five inches since midnight. The water is still rising, and the water is still rising. The water is still rising, and the water is still rising.

AT NEW YORK, FEB. 15.—The water in the Hudson River has fallen five inches since midnight. The water is still rising, and the water is still rising. The water is still rising, and the water is still rising.

THE PRESIDENT'S REPLY TO DAVES.

He Declines to Submit Papers Relating to the Suspension of an Official.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—The letter of the Secretary of the Interior, in reply to Mr. Dawes's resolution, which called for "copies of all papers which have been filed in the Interior Department, and which have been filed in the Interior Department, and which have been filed in the Interior Department."

MR. WATERSTON'S SERIOUS ILLNESS.

Louisville, Feb. 15.—To-night the physicians pronounced Mr. Waterston's symptoms favorable. Harvey Waterston and O. O. Stealy arrived from Washington and he recognized them. He is still in bed, and he is still in bed.

AT NEW YORK, FEB. 15.—The water in the Hudson River has fallen five inches since midnight. The water is still rising, and the water is still rising. The water is still rising, and the water is still rising.

AT NEW YORK, FEB. 15.—The water in the Hudson River has fallen five inches since midnight. The water is still rising, and the water is still rising. The water is still rising, and the water is still rising.

AT NEW YORK, FEB. 15.—The water in the Hudson River has fallen five inches since midnight. The water is still rising, and the water is still rising. The water is still rising, and the water is still rising.

AT NEW YORK, FEB. 15.—The water in the Hudson River has fallen five inches since midnight. The water is still rising, and the water is still rising. The water is still rising, and the water is still rising.

AT NEW YORK, FEB. 15.—The water in the Hudson River has fallen five inches since midnight. The water is still rising, and the water is still rising. The water is still rising, and the water is still rising.

AT NEW YORK, FEB. 15.—The water in the Hudson River has fallen five inches since midnight. The water is still rising, and the water is still rising. The water is still rising, and the water is still rising.

AT NEW YORK, FEB. 15.—The water in the Hudson River has fallen five inches since midnight. The water is still rising, and the water is still rising. The water is still rising, and the water is still rising.

AT NEW YORK, FEB. 15.—The water in the Hudson River has fallen five inches since midnight. The water is still rising, and the water is still rising. The water is still rising, and the water is still rising.

AT NEW YORK, FEB. 15.—The water in the Hudson River has fallen five inches since midnight. The water is still rising, and the water is still rising. The water is still rising, and the water is still rising.

AT NEW YORK, FEB. 15.—The water in the Hudson River has fallen five inches since midnight. The water is still rising, and the water is still rising. The water is still rising, and the water is still rising.

THE PRESIDENT'S REPLY TO DAVES.

He Declines to Submit Papers Relating to the Suspension of an Official.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—The letter of the Secretary of the Interior, in reply to Mr. Dawes's resolution, which called for "copies of all papers which have been filed in the Interior Department, and which have been filed in the Interior Department, and which have been filed in the Interior Department."

MR. WATERSTON'S SERIOUS ILLNESS.

Louisville, Feb. 15.—To-night the physicians pronounced Mr. Waterston's symptoms favorable. Harvey Waterston and O. O. Stealy arrived from Washington and he recognized them. He is still in bed, and he is still in bed.

AT NEW YORK, FEB. 15.—The water in the Hudson River has fallen five inches since midnight. The water is still rising, and the water is still rising. The water is still rising, and the water is still rising.

AT NEW YORK, FEB. 15.—The water in the Hudson River has fallen five inches since midnight. The water is still rising, and the water is still rising. The water is still rising, and the water is still rising.

AT NEW YORK, FEB. 15.—The water in the Hudson River has fallen five inches since midnight. The water is still rising, and the water is still rising. The water is still rising, and the water is still rising.

AT NEW YORK, FEB. 15.—The water in the Hudson River has fallen five inches since midnight. The water is still rising, and the water is still rising. The water is still rising, and the water is still rising.

AT NEW YORK, FEB. 15.—The water in the Hudson River has fallen five inches since midnight. The water is still rising, and the water is still rising. The water is still rising, and the water is still rising.

AT NEW YORK, FEB. 15.—The water in the Hudson River has fallen five inches since midnight. The water is still rising, and the water is still rising. The water is still rising, and the water is still rising.

AT NEW YORK, FEB. 15.—The water in the Hudson River has fallen five inches since midnight. The water is still rising, and the water is still rising. The water is still rising, and the water is still rising.

AT NEW YORK, FEB. 15.—The water in the Hudson River has fallen five inches since midnight. The water is still rising, and the water is still rising. The water is still rising, and the water is still rising.

AT NEW YORK, FEB. 15.—The water in the Hudson River has fallen five inches since midnight. The water is still rising, and the water is still rising. The water is still rising, and the water is still rising.

AT NEW YORK, FEB. 15.—The water in the Hudson River has fallen five inches since midnight. The water is still rising, and the water is still rising. The water is still rising, and the water is still rising.